CODEX OF THE ILLUMINATED MONKEY

In the time before Time when the Anunnaki came four hundred twenty-five millennia past
our ancestors had not been conceived
nor planned
nor were they a thought
within the cosmos.

The Anunnaki
from Nibiru
great red planet
in binary orbit
with Earth
left the confines
of their dark star world and journeyed

to our world
bringing machines
science
and their insatiable
taste for war.

They raided Earth
for the gold
they needed to sustain Nibiru.

A work force was developed.

Slaves were needed to mine deep into the planet.

Indigenous life on Earth

primitive to the people
from Nibiru
were modified by centuries of experiments to find the perfect slave.

Genetic manipulation
of the indigenous people led to the creation of many monsters
and demons
in the Anunnaki's
quest
for their gold.

Aeon's flew by.

Entire races of man

and their cultures
were created
and then destroyed
in the Anunnaki's quest for gold
to save the planet Nibiru.

But the perfect
slave
remained elusive.

All that remained
were the monkeys
in the trees.

Throughout millennia
the monkeys watched

as man evolved
from the genetic administration
of the Anunnaki code.

Then the day came
when the precious Anunnaki gold
was not mined
at all.

Leaving for Nibiru
in their ships of flame the Anunnaki left behind the culminated experiment that would become what we now name
human.

Advancing,
developing on their own
humans now evolved
with evolution.

War
inherently bred
into humans
advanced and developed
as well.

Civilizations
came and went.

Stories of Gods
spread across the globe giving tribes of men
just action

to create weapons with which to appease their lords.

Entire cultures
were erased from time in man's quest
to master war.

The monkeys watched
as man developed
a consciousness
of war,
destroying everything
it created,
decimating its culture
again and again.

Learning from nature
the monkeys found plants and minerals
to sustain
their consciousness
of peace.

Anunnaki returning
found the culture
man had devised.

They saw the destruction
that had evolved
from their creation.

In one final flood
they destroyed their ignoble experiment

leaving only a handful of animals,
humans
and the monkeys
in the trees.

They gave one monkey
the gift of illumination, the power to see past
the petty machinations
of man.

They gave it the ability to teach peace
and the power
to endow this belief
in humans.

When the waters receded
the first thing
done
by man
was to create
wars amongst men
as to whose
God
was true
whose
was just and right.

The Illuminated Monkey
looked on watching as man
began destroying
man
once more.

A small group
of humans
came to understand the illumination
the Anunnaki
bestowed
upon the monkey.

They learned from his teachings.

They followed
his path.

Harvesting plants
and minerals
from the Earth
that have been here

since the time
before Time,
they listened to the Illuminated Monkey.

They listened and lived
their lives knowing all God's are one in the same;

knowing the one God's name is Love, the Universal Life Force
that will forever keep us free;

they listened and lived
knowing man would again destroy man and the cycle would then begin again;

they listened to the Illuminated Monkey knowing he would lead them to a path away from destruction and war;
a path that would lead them to a culture of peace where all would live free.
